The Andrévias farm

On the road... stop at the Andrévias Farm (direct sale of preserved food to consumers).

Here the specialties are goose preparations, but there is also a walnuts grove of 10 hectares. The main goal of this farm is to maintain family know-how and traditions and to highlight the exceptional quality of goose foie gras.

Château des Bories

4

Château des Bories

(Open to the public from 1st July to 31st August)

This castle is typical of the Périgord and the architectural evolution. It has, amongst other facets, splendid medieval kitchens and a monumental Renaissance staircase with a square layout ...

The present castle started to be built in 1497 and was probably completed in 1604 by Henri de Saint-Astier, a protestant who, in 1592, witnessed its capture by the Catholics.

The castle has a long rectangular main building, flanked by two large round towers and a square tower containing a monumental staircase.

The building has kept its defensive system: machicolation towers, ditches, drawbridge, fortified courtyard.

The staircase seems to be the prototype of the monumental French staircase that kept through the 17th century.

The Périgueux Tourist Office and the Grand Périgueux Intercommunal Tourist Office invite you to discover these two historic districts by following an approved guide-lecturer.

2 Our favorite

The Vesunna Museum and its audacious architecture designed by Jean Nouvel, dedicated to the Roman origins of Périgueux, is built up over a Gallo-Roman villa called “domus of Vesone”. The archeological collections reveal ancient lifestyle, daily and leisure activities of the Petrocorii. (ancient inhabitants of Perigord).

3

Discover the medieval section with its history and cultural heritage by strolling through a labyrinth of narrow streets. Then, go for the cathedral of Saint-Front before succumbing to temptation of the food specialties of our terroir

Admire the amazing panoramic view of the historical center of Périgueux from the roof top of the cathedral.

On top of the city is situated the most emblematic building of Périgueux: the Cathedral with its five 12th C. cupolas. It was restored by Paul Abadie, the architect who designed Sacré-Coeur in Paris. He was inspired by the Saint Front Cathedral. The cathedral is listed in 1998 a UNESCO World Heritage Site (WHS), being part of the stops of the pilgrimage route to Santiago de Compostela. Visits are available from April to October.

By strolling through the belltowers and domes, you will have new view of the Roman-Byzantine architecture. Guided tours are offered only in French.
